

The Daily Courant.

Friday, September 13. 1706.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 3.

Venice, August 20.

Signior Delfino, Proveditore General in the Terra firma, who lately came hither from Verona, is return'd thither. The Electress of Bavaria is likewise gone from hence, to perform a Vow before the Image of Saint Anthony of Padua; and 'tis reported she designs to spend a Fortnight at Padua, then to take a short Turn hither, and afterwards to go to Verona.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Aug. 27.

Genoa, Aug. 7. The Envoy residing here on the part of King Philip V. has presented a Memorial to our Senate, in which he demands that Stephano Doria one of our Nobles be degraded from his Nobility and that his Estate be confiscated, for having some Days ago declar'd for King Charles III. and putting himself into his Service with a Galley that he commanded belonging to the Squadron of the Duke of Turris: But 'tis reported the Senate have answer'd, That they thought it no Business of theirs to punish Persons that were in the Service of foreign Potentates, even tho' they were Subjects of their own Republick.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Aug. 31.

Frankfort, Aug. 25. The Prince of Taxis and la Tour Master of the Posts of the Empire, set out from hence to Day for Brussels: Yesterday a certain Number of Bombs that were sent up the Rhine and stop'd at Mentz, proceeded upwards for Philipsbourg, being laden with 6 Demy-Culverins and 3 Mortars, with Carriages and other Furniture belonging to them, as also Bullets and Bombs and 130 Quintals of Powder, which the Cities of Nuremberg, Bamberg, and Eichstadt furnish to the Army of the Empire under Prince Lewis of Baden, who is at the Baths of Swalbach. Our Magistrates are to furnish two Pieces of Cannon, and two Mortars, with a great Quantity of Ammunition: And 'tis said it is to be employ'd in some important Enterprize which is yet kept secret.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 4. Frankfort, August 29. The 25th of this Month died at Raftad the Count of Frise, Imperial General of Artillery and Governour of Landau. The Count of Hohenlo and Major General Betrendorf are Competitors for the Government of Landau. 'Tis probable the Imperial Army on the upper Rhine will yet attempt to pass the Rhine before the Campaign is over, because the Enemy's Army is so much weaken'd by the several Detachments they have made to the Netherlands, that they are forc'd to retire into their Lines.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Aug. 31.

Cologne, August 27. The Pope's Nuncio, and the Abbot Mosca the Pope's Nephew, who lately brought from Rome the Cardinals Cap to the Prince of Saxe Zeits Bishop of Raab, return'd hither Yesterday from Dusseldorp; and the latter is preparing to set out very speedily for Rome. The French threaten to put the Dutchy of Bergues under Military Execution, because it will not submit to pay Contribution: But great Preparations are made in that Dutchy to receive them; and by Order of the Elector Palatine Men are actually at Work in building a new Fort on the Rhine over against Mulheim, the better to cover that Village. They write from Dusseldorp, that Baron Nederkan, Son of General Dopf, went Post through that Place the 25th Instant, to carry to the Court of Vienna the News of the taking of Menin, and of the Fleet's being sail'd from England upon the intended Descent.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 3.

Letters from Traerbach of the 29th of August, say, that the French Intendant of Metz having forbidden under severe Penalties the Inhabitants of the Places within his Jurisdiction to pay any Contributions to the Allies, Captain Gregory, who commands a Troop of Hussars garrison'd in Traerbach, made an Excursion with his Men and burnt three Villages within half a League of Metz, with all the Corn and Forrage they found in those Villages: Which put other Places into so great a Consternation, that they have since sent Deputies to Traerbach with the Consent

Consent of the Intendant of Metz, to agree of paying Contributions.

They write from Cologne the 1st of this Month, that the famous Party-Leader la Croix had caus'd the Inhabitants of Mulheim to be summon'd by a Trumpeter to submit themselves to Contributions within 3 Days, threatening them otherwise with Fire and Sword: And that upon these Menaces, the Guards of that Village are doubled, as are also those of several other Places of the Dutchy of Bergues situate on the side of the Rhine.

They write from Brussels the 30th of August, that the 14th of that Month the late Elector of Cologne was ordain'd at Lisle a Sub-Deacon by the Archbishop of Cambray; and that he would in a Month's Time go to Rome to receive Priests Orders.
